C-1802533	PROMINENCE HEALTH PLAN		08/24/2021	Online	N	N	Closed	O-Health	I have a health condition that requires me to use the restroom. I've worked with Prominence since 1/2020. I have always been allowed to excuse myself to use the restroom, until now. Now, I am penalized for using the restroom, or they enforce me to clock out. I have provided documentation from my doctor that supports my diagnosis, and I am in the restroom no longer than 15-20 minutes throughout my entire shift. I feel it is wrong to be forced to sacrifice my hours for a medical condition, especially when not given the option to make up the hours. I have presented this issue to HR and they have done nothing. I am dehydrated because I don't drink as much water as I need solely because I'm not allowed to use the restroom as frequently as I need to. They watch our every move and it's incredibly toxic and hostile. I cannot afford to lose my job nor my health insurance, but I cannot just be deprived of taking care of myself without penalization or loss of hours.	Resolved through inquiry process.

I'm not sure if this is fully a violation, but it adds onto the main one I am trying to point out.	Resolved through inquiry process.

Nevada Revised Statutes 618.375(1): Duties of employers. Every employer shall furnish employment and a place of employment which are free from recognized hazards that are causing or are likely to cause death or serious physical harm to his or her employees.

At the jobsite, located below the Skybar Mezzanine structure under construction, near the impact area where the injured employee fell, five anchor bolts protruding from the concrete were not adequately guarded. The anchor bolts were 3/4-inch diameter and were protruding 2.5 inches above the concrete, creating a potential impalement hazard.

Proposed Penalty $5,803.00.

2. Las Vegas Paving Corp - Inspection 1513730

Nevada Revised Statutes 618.375(1): Duties of employers. Every employer shall furnish employment and a place of employment which are free from recognized hazards that are causing or are likely to cause death or serious physical harm to his or her employees.

Las Vegas Paving Corp did not ensure employees were protected from recognized hazards that are likely to cause death or serious physical harm. Employees attempting to clear a jam were exposed to struck and or crushed-by hazards due to controls not applied to ensure that the moving jaw was blocked against hazardous motion before wedge bolts were loosened. On February 5, 2021, a die plate became jammed inside the crushing chamber of the Jaw Crusher (make: Pioneer, model: 4248, serial number: 723871). An employee began loosening bolts on the center wedge of the moving jaw to clear the jam, when the moving jaw released, striking, and pinning the employee against the frame of the equipment. The employee died on his way to the hospital as a result from his injuries. The employer did not ensure that that the moving jaw was blocked against hazardous motion before the center wedge bolts were loosened.

This standard covers machines, equipment, and processes in which the unexpected energization or start-up of the machines or equipment, release of stored energy or the actions of persons could result in harm.

This standard establishes requirements for the control of hazardous energy associated with machines, equipment or processes that could cause harm to personnel. The standard specifies the use of lockout (primary method), tagout or alternative methods to control hazardous energy associated with machines, equipment or processes that could cause harm to personnel.

This standard applies to activities such as erecting, installing, constructing, repairing, adjusting, inspecting, unjamming, set up, testing, troubleshooting, cleaning, dismantling, servicing, and maintaining machines, equipment, or processes.

Section 3. Definitions:

3.15. Hazardous Energy:

Any electrical, mechanical, hydraulic, pneumatic, chemical, nuclear, thermal, gravity or other energy that could cause harm to personnel.

7. Control of Hazardous Energy,

7.1. General Lockout or tagout shall be used to secure the energy-isolating device(s) to control hazardous energy to the machinery, equipment, or processes from the energy source. Lockout shall be the primary method of hazardous energy control. Tagout is a less preferred method of controlling hazardous energy. The control of hazardous energy includes isolation, de-energization and verification, and shall take into consideration the impacts of residual energy.

Lockout is required in the following situations:

- When no risk assessment has been completed.
- When the tasks and/or hazards are unknown.

Lockout or tagout is required:

- During assembly and disassembly of the machine, equipment or process.
- When energy is not required to perform the task

A feasible and acceptable means of abatement is to follow the requirements for the control of hazardous energy associated with machines contained in ANSI/ASSE Z244.1 - 2016.

Or in the Alternative:

1910.147(d)(5)(i): Stored energy. Following the application of lockout or tagout devices to energy isolating devices, all potentially hazardous stored or residual energy shall be relieved, disconnected, restrained, and otherwise rendered safe.

Proposed Penalty: $7,431.00

3. Creative Tent International, Inc. – Inspection 1538245

Nevada Revised Statutes 618.375(1): Duties of employers. Furnish employment and a place of employment which are free from recognized hazards that are causing or are likely to cause death or serious physical harm to his or her employees.

The employer did not furnish employment and a place of employment free from recognized hazards that cause or are likely to cause death or serious physical harm to his or her employees. In the cutting area and receiving area, employees were exposed to recognized serious hazards presented by forklift operation. Employees operated a forklift (brand: Nissan, model: MP1FA25LV, type: LP) to move fabric rolls and steel tent parts weighing up to approximately 2,000 pounds. On June 24, 2021, and June 30, 2021, employees operated the forklift without any form of restraining device or seatbelt that would protect them in the event of a tip-over that may dislodge or eject the operator.

ASME B56.1-1993 Safety Standard for Low Lift and High Lift Trucks 7.39 Operator Restraint Systems

" (a) Counterbalanced, center control, high lift trucks that have a sit-down, non-elevating operator position shall have a restraint device, system, or enclosure that is intended to assist the operator in reducing the risk of entrapment of the operator's head and/or torso between the truck and ground in the event of a tip over. Such means shall not unduly restrict the operation of the truck, e.g., the operator's mounting, dismounting, movement, and/or visibility."

A feasible means of abating the hazardous condition would be for the employer to comply with ASME B56.1-1993 Safety Standard for Low Lift and High Lift Trucks 7.39 Operator Restraint Systems.

Proposed Penalty: $4,915.00

Nevada Revised Statutes 618.375(2): Duties of employers. Every employer shall furnish employment and a place of employment which are free from recognized hazards that are causing or are likely to cause death or serious physical harm to his or her employees.

On 4/15/2021, located at storage unit #2054 at 2500 Longley Lane, Reno, NV, an employee suffered traumatic asphyxia after a hospital bed pinned the employee to the floor while working underneath the bed. The hospital bed weighed approximately 250 pounds. There were no devices or safeguards used to support the bed that would prevent it from moving and or collapsing. The employer failed to furnish and use safety devices which would render such employment safe and comply with all orders issued by the Division.

2. Global Mining Products, Inc. - Inspection 1536328

Nevada Revised Statutes 618.375(1): Duties of employers. Every employer shall furnish employment and a place of employment which are free from recognized hazards that are causing or are likely to cause death or serious physical harm to his or her employees.

On June 9, 2021, at the jobsite located at 400 Front Street, Elko NV: One employee engaged in wheel flange sandblasting activities was exposed to a struck-by hazard inside the sandblasting booth. The 57-inch diameter, 500-pound wheel flange was not secured to prevent unintentional movement. The wheel flange was placed standing against the wall and fell forward striking the back of the employee's head causing fatal injuries.

Among other methods, one feasible and acceptable abatement method to correct this hazard is to utilize a work rack which is designed to cradle the wheel flange in order to prevent displacement.

Proposed Penalty: $13,653.00

3. Ninyo & Moore Geotechnical and Environmental Sciences Consultants – Inspection 1528723

Nevada Revised Statutes 618.375(1): Duties of employers. Furnish employment and a place of employment which are free from recognized hazards that are causing or are likely to cause death or serious physical harm to his or her employees.

The employer did not furnish employment and a place of employment which was free from recognized hazards that are causing or are likely to cause death or serious physical harm to his or her employees. Recognized grading site hazards include but are not limited to being crushed-by or struck-by earth moving equipment, for which exposure is likely to cause death or serious physical harm. At the Chapman construction site, an employee of Ninyo & Moore Geotechnical and Environmental Sciences Consultants was performing ground compaction tests at multiple points of the grading pad and was crossing the path of travel of multiple pieces of equipment. Various earthmoving vehicles were in operation around the employee during testing, to include a Dynapac compactor (model: CA2500PD), a Caterpillar bulldozer (model: D9R) pushing a Caterpillar scraper (model: 631E), and a Caterpillar motor grader (model: 140M). On May 4, 2021, an employee was fatally injured when the Caterpillar motor grader, operated by an employee of Baldwin Development LLC, reversed onto and over the employee.

- It may not be possible to provide direct visibility on large machines to all areas around the machine. Appropriate job site organization required in order to minimize hazards that are caused by restricted visibility.
- Examples of job site organization include the following: Safety instructions, controlled patterns of machine movement and vehicle movement, workers that direct safe movement of traffic, restricted areas, a system of communication, and communication between workers and operators prior to approaching the machine.

- The size and configuration of this machine may result in areas that cannot be seen when the operator is seated. For areas that are not covered by optional visual aids, the job site organization must be utilized to minimize hazards of this restricted visibility.

The following suggestions are intended to promote grading site safety.

- Do not stand, drive, or work behind equipment; rear vision is usually obstructed, and equipment may back up rapidly.
- Establish eye contact with the equipment operators. See that they are aware of your presence.
- Avoid having multiple test pits dug simultaneously unless you are testing after hours. Multiple test pits further confine the area of work and confuse the pattern.

A feasible means of abatement is for the employer to follow the employer's Injury and Illness Prevention Program, or to comply with the instruction provided in the Caterpillar Operation and Maintenance Manual when employees are permitted to work on active grading sites.

A feasible means of abatement is for the employer to follow their implemented Injury and Illness Prevention Program, or to comply with the instruction provided in the Caterpillar Operation and Maintenance Manual when employees are permitted to work on active grading sites.
