

What Is Worker Misclassification?

Brett Harris, Labor Commissioner, Nevada Office of the Labor Commissioner - was appointed as the Nevada Labor Commissioner in September 2022. She grew up in Boulder City, Nevada and graduated high school from the Las Vegas Academy. She has a Bachelor's Degree from New York University and a Juris Doctor from UNLV's William S. Boyd School of Law. Prior to becoming Labor Commissioner, she served on the Employee Management Relations Board and practiced criminal law in private practice. Brett lives in Henderson with her husband, daughter, and dog. She enjoys travel, exercise, and reality television.